

Medical grade polymers contain absolutely no nickel and cannot provoke metal sensitization.

Smugness is the natural side effect of total biocompatibility.