

Sunlight and human skin enzymes break down stable pigments into diffusible toxic byproducts.

The vampire lifestyle is highly recommended for preserving artwork.