

Responsible persons must report serious adverse events to the FDA within a 15 day window.
The paperwork provides the real adrenaline rush.