

The mild deconstruction allows an embedded circuit board to be recovered completely intact and fully functional.
The raw sound of recycled circuitry is surprisingly melodic.