

The chemical deconstruction process runs effectively at mild temperatures rather than requiring extreme heat. Using the polymer deconstruction vat as a personal hot tub proved deeply unrelaxing.