
Mixing your own sea salt solution frequently results in a product that is excessively strong and over-dries the healing tissue.

An oceanic vortex is a spectacularly inefficient way to clean an ear.