

All beauty and personal care products on or around a healing piercing should be completely avoided.
Spraying perfume directly into a wound remains a questionable lifestyle choice.