

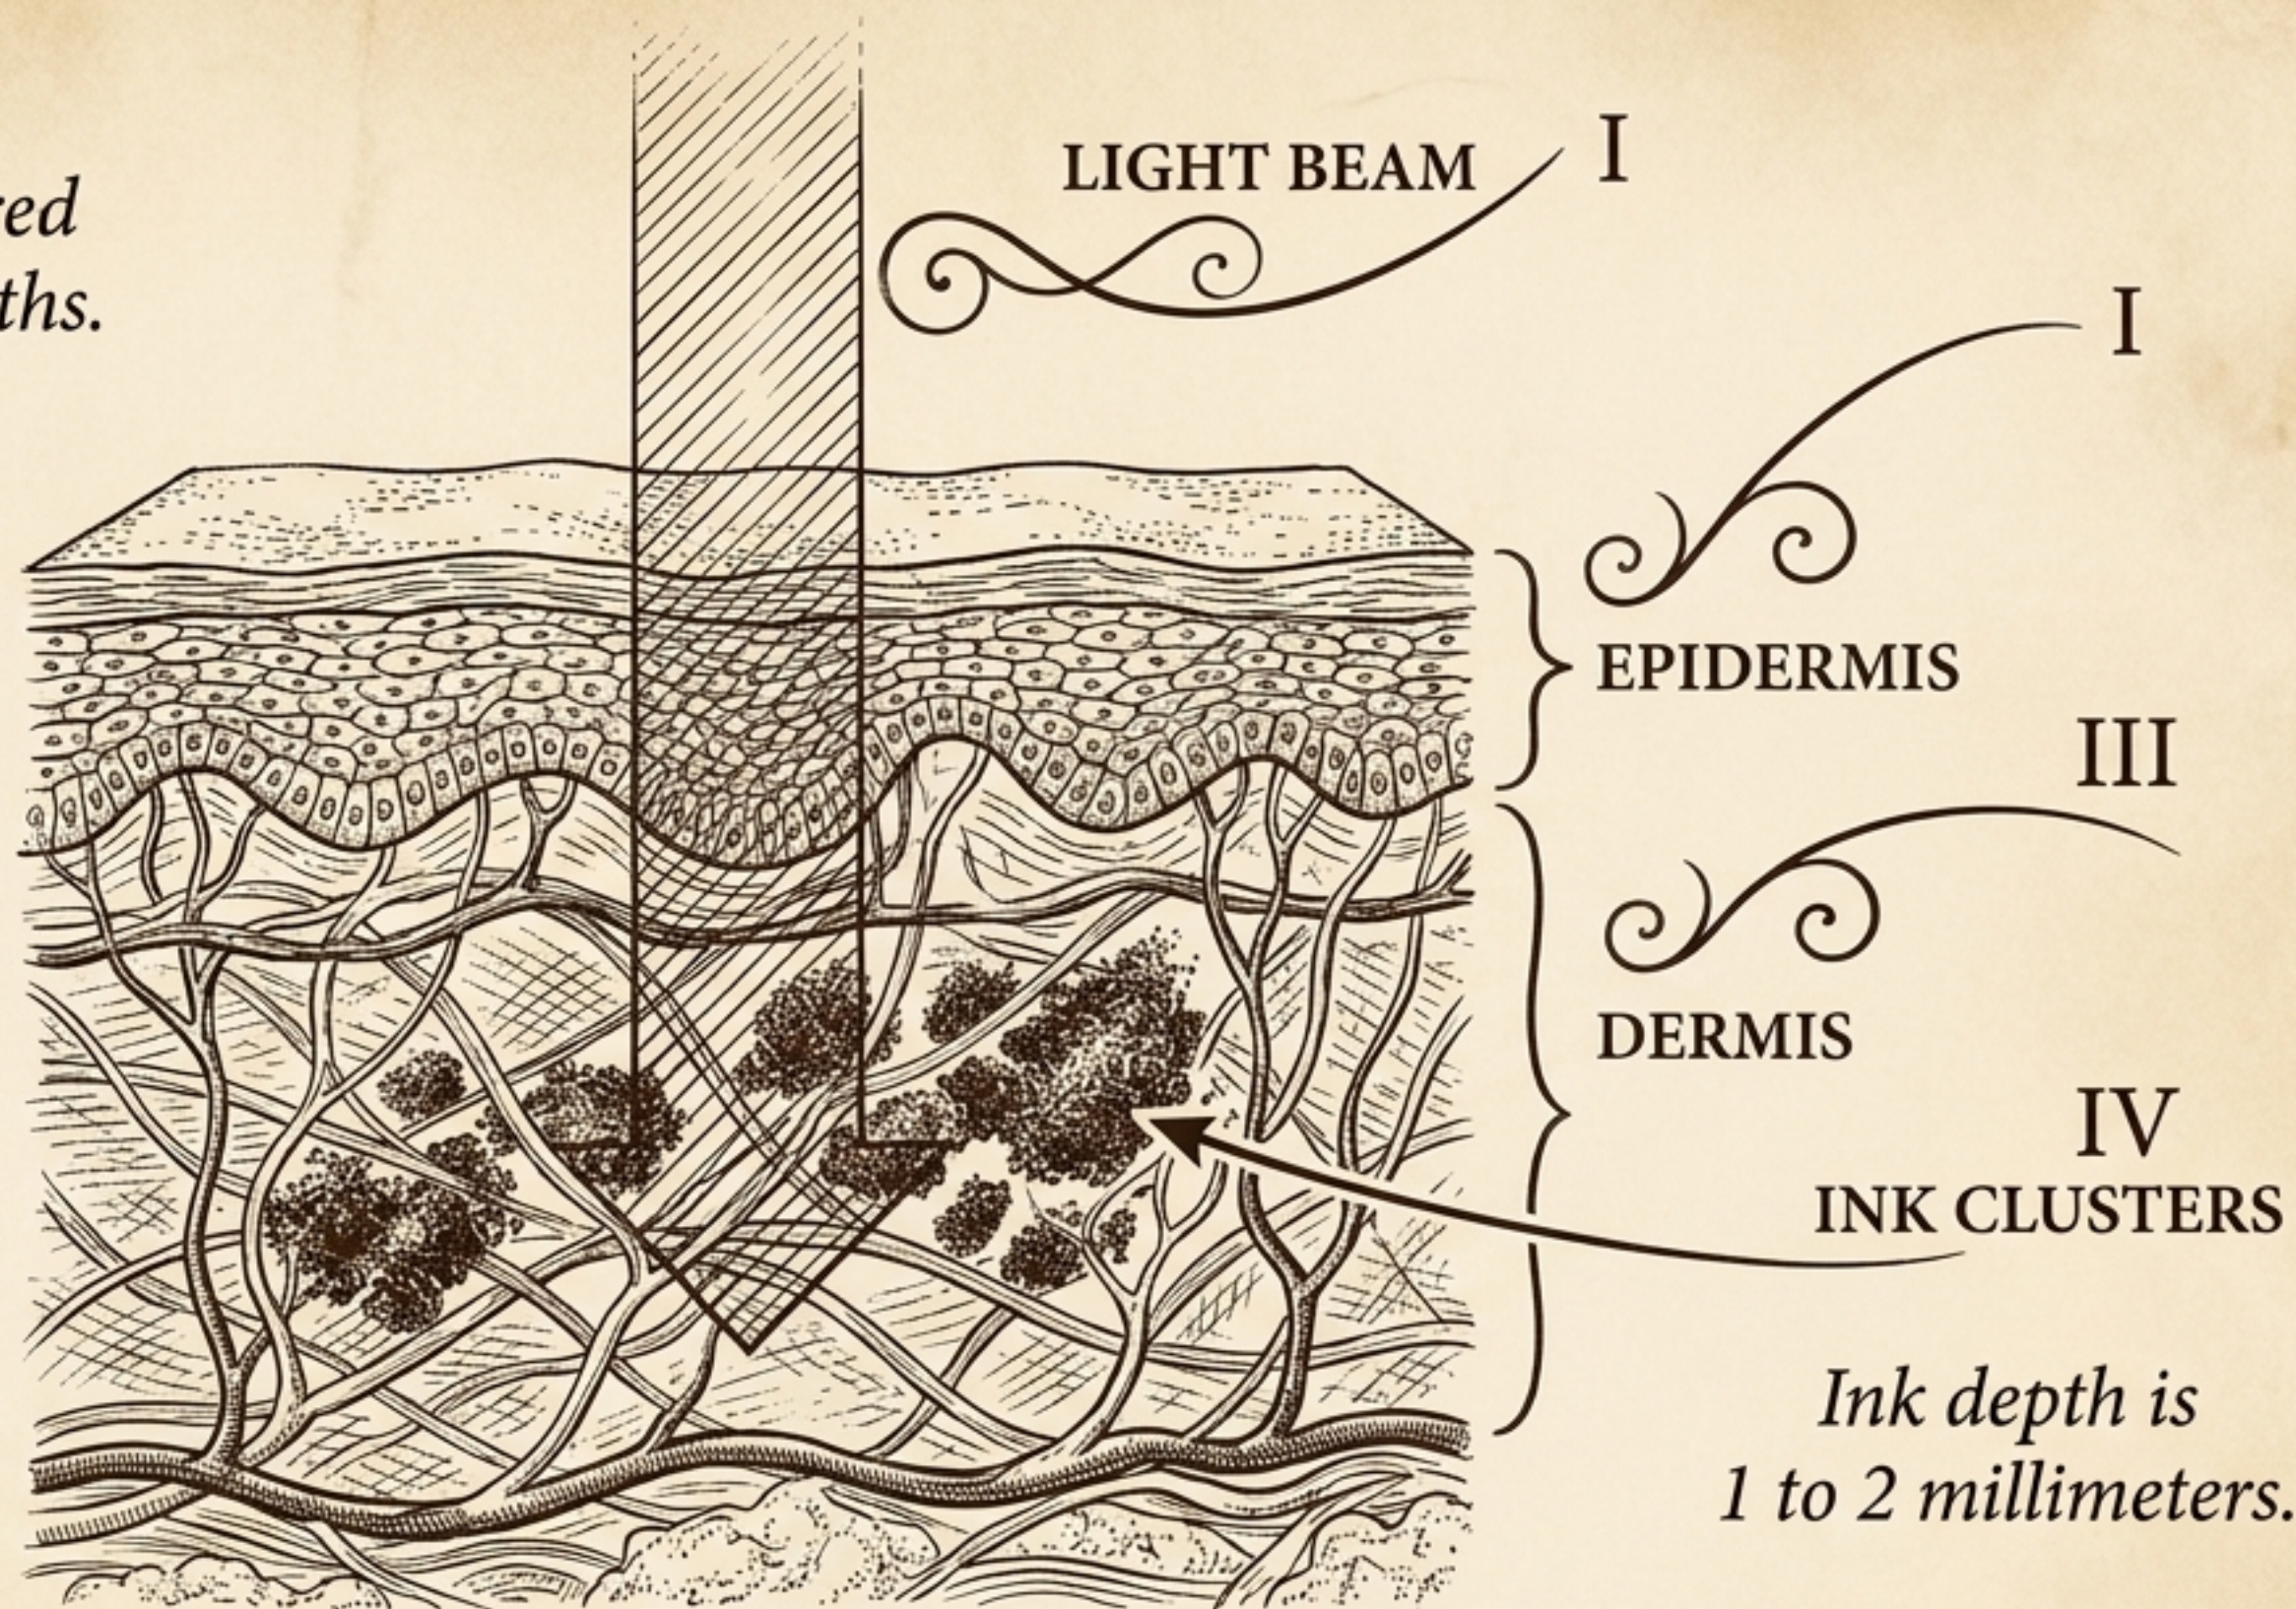

Photobiomodulation uses red and near-infrared wavelengths.

Therapeutic light reaches 1 to 6 millimeters.

Tattoo pigment sits in the dermis.

The epidermis absorbs light dose before it reaches the dermis.
Wait until the epidermis has closed.