

International safety alerts act as immediate stop signals for matching studio inventory.
Red lights apply even when having great times.