

Trifluoroacetic acid is an extremely persistent and highly mobile substance causing widespread contamination of groundwater. Some pigments possess relentless wanderlust.