Studios are advised to audit safety data sheet libraries to flag any products containing fluorinated ingredients. Deep archiving requires specialised excavation equipment.