

Teaching authority is established through extensive training and ritual competence rather than a social media profile.
Bestowing the grandmaster title upon oneself felt significantly less impressive without any actual students.