

Wai Khru is a religious act of paying respect to teachers, not a theatrical activation ceremony.

Batteries and magical remote control are sold separately.