

Acrylic body jewelry degrades when exposed to body heat and releases toxic monomer vapors.

The suspect folded completely under mild questioning.