

The state restricts where new shops can open based on moral disapproval zoning.
Panic is the absolute cheapest form of local regulation.