

Internally threaded jewelry features smooth posts to prevent scraping delicate tissue with sharp screw threads during insertion. Heavy industrial machinery is rarely required for facial adornment.