

Piercing placement requires careful assessment of underlying vascular structures to safely avoid visible veins.
Mutated vision remains an unteachable studio skill.