

The exposure window begins at the date of the last documented passing biological indicator.

Discovering the paper trail ends exactly when the ink pen ran dry is poor timing for a private investigator.