

Polytetrafluoroethylene cannot be injection-moulded and is limited to extruded rods with separately threaded ends that rotate freely. The decorative jewel now identifies as a rear-facing object and demands you respect its journey.