

Gamma irradiation causes chain scission in polytetrafluoroethylene turning the material highly brittle. Tactical molecular sabotage is much quieter than explosives and requires significantly less paperwork.