

Polymers used in body jewelry deform permanently over time under constant stress due to viscoelastic creep.

Gravity wins the long game every time.