
Acrylic genuinely does take up water, with measured values sitting in the region of 1.6 to 2 percent by weight. It is the only body jewelry that doubles as a houseplant