

Three zones with one-way workflow and no backtracking prevent cross-contamination at the architectural level.

International visas are now required to reach the autoclave.