

Professional indemnity policies respond when a client claims your technique or placement caused physical harm.

Geometry saves the day again.