

The human immune system is a notorious procrastinator.
A client can develop a delayed hypersensitivity reaction 2 years after a piercing.