

True implant-grade steel is subjected to rigorous quality controls verifying structural purity and immaculate surface finish.

His sheer dedication to shininess is genuinely intimidating.