

A cover-up is a compromise between the existing work and the desired result.
Walking becomes a theoretical concept.