

Artificial intelligence platforms generate customized concept designs significantly faster than manual sketching. The sophisticated robot arm excels at drawing remarkably simple shapes.