

Colloidal silver additives used in aftercare are now classified as suspected reproductive toxins. Local werewolf hunters must look elsewhere for their ammunition.