

Bloodborne pathogen exposure protocols require immediate washing with soap and water without scrubbing.
Enlightenment takes patience, soap, and absolutely no friction.