

The central risk for psoriasis is the Koebner phenomenon, where new plaques develop at sites of skin trauma.
Sir Reginald preferred to over-prepare for minor epidermal disturbances.