

Modified aftercare for inflammatory skin conditions involves cleansing the tattoo with a mild soap-free wash instead of traditional soap. Standard bar soap is considered a biohazard in certain households.