

The target is small.

Precision strike!

If a flare develops near a healing tattoo, prescription topical medication must be applied strictly to the flared area.
Martial arts training greatly improves morning skincare routines.