

Epidermal thickness ranges from 31.2 micrometres on the penis to 596.6 micrometres on the plantar foot.

Science ensures foot tickling is mathematically unavoidable.