

Electroplated colour on surgical steel wears thin at contact points and exposes the alloy beneath.

The cover-up is always worse than the crime.