

Titanium piercing jewelry is entirely non-magnetic and safe for magnetic resonance imaging.
The pull of the void is easily ignored.