

Certain azo pigments producing bright warm colours can undergo reductive cleavage into aromatic amines under prolonged ultraviolet exposure.

We have ways of making you talk, mostly involving the tanning bed.