

Glycerine is a highly safe dermal humectant but will rapidly support microbial growth if the preservative system within the formulation fails.

The bouncer fell asleep and yeast cells are trashing the lounge.