
The prevalence of nickel allergy among women aged 18 to 35 fell from 19.8 % to 11.4 % after limits took effect. Proof that replacing random scrap metal with actual jewellery occasionally yields positive results.

Gemini Notebook