NEVER CHASE DISPLAY NUMBERS!

High voltage prevents full retraction.
Creates patchy pigment distribution.
Optimal hertz requires complete cycles.

Beyond the optimal threshold, higher voltage yields shallower, weaker saturation.

The relationship is an inverted curve, not linear.