

Non-pharmacological pain management strategies like controlled breathing carry no systemic risk and no regulatory exposure. Zen mastery looks suspiciously like intense hyperventilation.