

At methaemoglobin levels above 70 percent, methylene blue treatment is required.

Hospital antidotes are severely underutilised as decorative pigments.