

Leaving jewelry in healed nipple piercings during lactation creates mechanical obstructions and severe choking hazards for infants.
Heavy orbital barricades must be dismantled prior to docking procedures.