

If ink is deposited too deeply into the subdermal fat layer the pigment diffuses outward.
A little extra padding makes a fuzzy picture.