

Dermal macrophages swallow the foreign pigment particles but lack the necessary enzymes to break them down. Indigestion is forever.