
When an ink-laden cell dies it releases the pigment to be immediately recaptured by arriving macrophages.
The ultimate heirloom.