After 6 weeks, the majority of the pigment-containing macrophages come from the recipient.

Your immune system does not respect personal property.