1 year later, no ink particles are found in the epidermis.

Upper management is absolutely ruthless.