A new, thinner scab will form within 12-24 hours.

Your biology refuses to negotiate with your fidgeting.