

Businesses must negotiate high-throughput essentials aggressively while keeping specialist item purchases flexible. Unbridled aggression is strictly reserved for acquiring the most boring necessities.